Synthetic Rattan Furniture

Synthetic rattan furniture is made from made fibre which is much sturdier and more durable than the real thing. The fibres are woven in the same way as real rattan but are often coated with UV additives that can prevent fading and wear.

Outdoor furniture sets made from synthetic rattan have proved increasingly popular over the past decade for various reasons, not least their sheer resistance to outdoor elements, including both moisture and UV light. Such furniture remains beautiful and durable even when left out in harsh conditions and is very easy to care for in general, only requiring routine cleaning and not needing to be lacquered or stored indoors.
