The outdoor shower is an extremely functional element that is particularly useful in the garden. Often outdoor showers are placed near a swimming pool and are generally used to cool off during hot summer days. Arkema showers can also be installed on the lawn or under a porch. Outdoor showers represent a refined and elegant plus in aesthetics and design, but they are also a practical solution: an outdoor shower allows everyone to use them without having to occupy the house and the bathroom. The proposals for garden showers that you can find in this section of the site reflect multiple tastes and needs between different materials, shapes and sizes.
